Fernox is Europe's leading manufacturer of domestic and commercial water treatment products.

Haier ductless mini-split and multi-split system air conditioners for use in residential or light commercial applications. Available in 13 SEER, 16 SEER, 17 SEER, 18 SEER and 20 SEER.

Heat Transfer Products Is the Industry Leader in Quality High Efficiency Stainless Steel Water Heaters and Boilers for Both Commercial and Residential Applications. If you specify or install high-efficiency boilers and water heaters, you probably know about Heat Transfer's condensing boilers, with their fully modulating and load-matching, ultra-low-NOx burners that deliver AFUE ratings well in excess of 90%.

Condensate from gas burning furnaces, boilers and domestic water heaters are slightly acidic and must be treated to have their pH raised before discharging to a sewer or septic system to avoid damaging pipes and systems. Neutra-Safe condensate neutralizers are designed to raise the pH level of the condensate discharge from your heating equipment and domestic hot water heaters.

Smith's Environmental Products provides much needed heating solutions to today's high efficiency hydronics market. Their assortment of kickspace heaters, fan convectors, perimeter heating element and panel radiators all feature superior performance utilizing low water temperatures; perfect for applications involving high efficiency, low mass condensing boilers.

Vent Rite has been supplying high quality steam and hot water air valves to home owners, public buildings, institutions and industry for over fifty years and continues to enjoy a reputation for reliability and excellence.
